

Spotlight on Women in Medicine & Science

September 7, 2017 • 1:00 pm—3:00 pm

EPNEC Seminar Room B

Registration https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/SWIMS_2017

WUSM female faculty members highlight their work in diverse fields of science as well as share the unique challenges they have faced in their careers in academic medicine.

Jacqueline Payton, MD, PhD

Assistant Professor, Pathology & Immunology

"Epigenetic discoveries drive precision medicine approaches for lymphoma"

1:00 -1:30 pm

Audrey Odom John, MD, PhD

Associate Professor of Pediatrics,
Infectious Diseases

"Sweet success: targeting metabolism to diagnose and treat malaria"

1:30 - 2:00 pm

Phyllis Hanson, MD, PhD

Gerty T. Cori Professor,
Cell Biology and Physiology

"Moving around the cell: travels in membrane trafficking"

2:00 - 2:30 pm

2:30-3:00 pm Come and interact with our distinguished speakers and WUSM women leaders:
a panel discussion of career advice & challenges

Victoria Fraser, MD

Chair, Department of Medicine
Adolphus Busch Professor of Medicine

Jennifer Lodge, PhD

Vice Chancellor for Research
Associate Dean for Research and
Professor of Molecular Microbiology

Presented by:

WUSM Office of Faculty Affairs, WUSM Department of Pediatrics Office of Faculty Development & Department of Medicine Office of Faculty Development